

NAEP Conference 2020: ‘Whose placement is it anyway?’

*National Association of Educators in Practice (NAEP).
United Kingdom*

The United Kingdom’s National Association of Educators in Practice (NAEP) is a sponsor of this journal. The Association:

aims to have a health and social care workforce in which individual practitioners fully understand the value of education for learners, patients, carers and other healthcare practitioners. The Association’s vision is for high-quality practice educators to play a key role in professional and academic development, with a wide range of learners in healthcare and in other professions with the recognition that high-quality practice education leads to better patient and client care (NAEP, 2021a, paras 1-2).

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the planned 2020 NAEP Annual Conference was cancelled. However, NAEP has now published those peer-reviewed abstracts that had been accepted. The collected abstracts (NAEP, 2021b) can be downloaded from the NAEP website, <https://naep-uk.org/>. Posters and presentations submitted for the conference have also been made available online, and can be viewed at <https://naep-uk.org/presentations/>.
